

VIRTUAL Concerts & Events

Don't let staying in get you down! If you're missing live music experiences during the period of social distancing, tune into these live streaming concerts and events, or browse through superbly curated musical archives at your leisure.

Live Stream Concerts & Musical Archives

Billboard Live At-Home

As the title suggests, "Live At-Home" captures live performances from artists while they're quarantined in their homes. Each "Billboard Live At-Home" performer will choose a nonprofit partner to support with their live stream, including such worthy causes as My Friend's Place, American Red Cross, Center for Disaster Philanthropy, Meals on Wheels America, Direct Relief, National Coalition for the Homeless, Housing Works Inc., Downtown Women's Center, MusiCares and more charities working overtime to help those impacted by the coronavirus pandemic.

The Grammy Museum – Museum at Home

While the Grammy Museum in Los Angeles is currently closed, it has created a section on its website called "Museum at Home," where never-before-released content from the museum's archives have been made available to the public. This hub offers a collection of lessons, virtual exhibits, and interviews with musicians, so aspiring musicians and fans can continue to immerse themselves in music education during the museum's closure. The tagline of the section is "doors closed, mission open."

NPR Music

NPR Music offers current and archival podcasts, live concert webcasts, reviews, music lists, news, studio sessions, and interviews to listen to from NPR and partner public radio stations across the country, as well as an index of public radio music stations streaming live on the internet.

Austin City Limits Live TV

Missing live shows from the iconic Austin City Limits at the Moody Theater in downtown Austin? Catch up on the latest tapings from the longest-running music series on American television with the PBS archives of Austin City Limits. Fan-favorite episodes from the recently broadcast Season 45 are available for streaming, in addition to the entire slate of programs from the previous two seasons of the acclaimed concert showcase.

Keep it Local – Concerts & Events

Mega Corazón 2020

As an online broadcast, URBAN-15's Mega Corazón has from the beginning prioritized poetry audiences that are distant, dispersed, and digitally available. Always ahead of its time, Mega Corazón now finds itself strategically well-positioned to inject a much-needed artistic infusion into our strange, new reality of social distancing.

Witte Where You Are

Witte Where You Are provides engaging, interactive virtual experiences that you can do at home with the whole family. Learn how to become a Backyard Scientist and discover the fun in your own backyard. Investigate how the past connects to today and learn how to be a History Detective, and digitally explore Witte artifacts, gallery virtual tours and much more.

The Gurwitz 2020

Every four years The Gurwitz participants and jurors from around the globe showcase the art of piano in San Antonio, Texas. Watch the most recent competition, which took place Jan/Feb, online.

Agarita

The San Antonio quartet is providing a soothing option for bored and anxious San Antonians by making its performance catalog available to stream online, one concert at a time. Agarita has also included the concert's program notes below the video, giving abundant reading material for anyone wanting to take a deep dive into the historical context of the music. The ensemble plans to upload a new concert on a weekly basis for the foreseeable future.
